COVER LETTER

In choosing me for the job as an UX designer, you will get an employee with excellent negotiation skills, solid experience in IT, digital field and experience in resource and task management, web and graphical design as well as a diverse background.

My personal success has always come through targeted performance and customer focus. I work systematically and detail oriented, and I thrive in a team where collaboration is part of an exciting day.

In my earlier jobs, I've created good results through targeted work with my team and colleagues. When I am designing a project I always feel ownership for the specific project and this is leading to success. I engage in daily work, and get close to specific cases when sudden challenges must be prioritized.

I know from my employment with NASDAQ OMX, Arkena A/S that the client has different needs and that is one of the starting points in my daily work.

One of my strengths are that I am used to taking responsibility and to make decisions. I am always good at learning new things and adapting to new working cultures and business areas.

On the basis of results I am used to analyse problems and work with KPI to achieve corporate objectives. I have good knowledge in implementing and running cross-organizational projects with a focus on quality, budget and deadline. I have a great IT technical understanding and have earlier worked with a wide variety of CMS and database programs.

I am 37 years old, and live with my little family in the west of Zealand. As a person I like humor and have an interest for Danish design and like to meet new people.

Sincerely,
Natalya Stæhr
